PLEASE READ

Important information

Not an offer. This presentation is for informational purposes only and does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any securities of Belpointe PREP, LLC ("Belpointe OZ" or the "Company"). Class A units trade on the NYSE American under the symbol OZ. Investing in Class A units involves a high degree of risk, including the possible loss of the entire investment. Before investing, read the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the risk factors in its Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, available at www.sec.gov.

Forward-looking statements. This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, including statements about leasing, stabilization, development plans, dispositions, net asset value and the Opportunity Zone program. Words such as "anticipate," "estimate," "expect," "project," "plan," "intend," "believe," "may" and "will" identify forward-looking statements. They reflect current expectations and are subject to the risks and uncertainties described in the Company's SEC filings. Actual results may differ materially, and the Company undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement except as required by law.

Net asset value. NAV per Class A unit is calculated quarterly by the Company's Manager under the valuation policy described in the Company's SEC filings. NAV is an estimate, not a guarantee of value. The market price of Class A units may be above or below NAV and may never reach it. Market price data is delayed and provided for information only. Figures in this document are updated automatically from public sources, including the Company's filings with the SEC and third-party market data, and may contain errors, omissions or delays. They are provided for informational purposes only. The Company's filings with the SEC, available at www.sec.gov, are the official source and control if there is any difference.

Tax matters. Nothing in this presentation is tax advice. Opportunity Zone benefits depend on each investor's circumstances and on current law, which may change. Consult your own tax adviser. The Company currently intends to manage its affairs so that it continues to meet the requirements for classification as a qualified opportunity fund under OZ 1.0, as well as the transitional guidance and the proposed regulations issued by the Treasury and IRS under OZ 2.0. These provisions remain untested, final OZ 2.0 regulations remain pending, and the Company's ability to qualify and operate in conformity with future requirements is subject to uncertainty. A failure to continue to qualify as a qualified opportunity fund would constitute an inclusion event. Belpointe OZ is managed by Belpointe PREP Manager, LLC (the "Manager") and sponsored by Belpointe, LLC (the "Sponsor"). Property information is from the Company's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2026 unless otherwise stated; leasing percentages are the Company's estimates as of November 1, 2026 and change over time.

THE CASE

Why Belpointe OZ now

01

A material discount to NAV

Class A units have recently traded at a material discount to the Company's most recently announced net asset value. A buyer on the exchange acquires the underlying real estate below the Company's own estimate of value.

02

Completed, income-producing properties

Aster & Links and VIV are built and leasing: greater than 92% and 86% leased as of November 1, 2026. Most Opportunity Zone funds ask investors to commit capital to properties that do not exist yet, and the Company already owns assets in OZ 2.0 zones, including rural zones.

03

Construction complete at Aster & Links and VIV

Construction risk on the two completed properties is behind us. Lease-up risk at each is substantially reduced, though not eliminated, until the property is stabilized. The development pipeline carries its own construction risk.

04

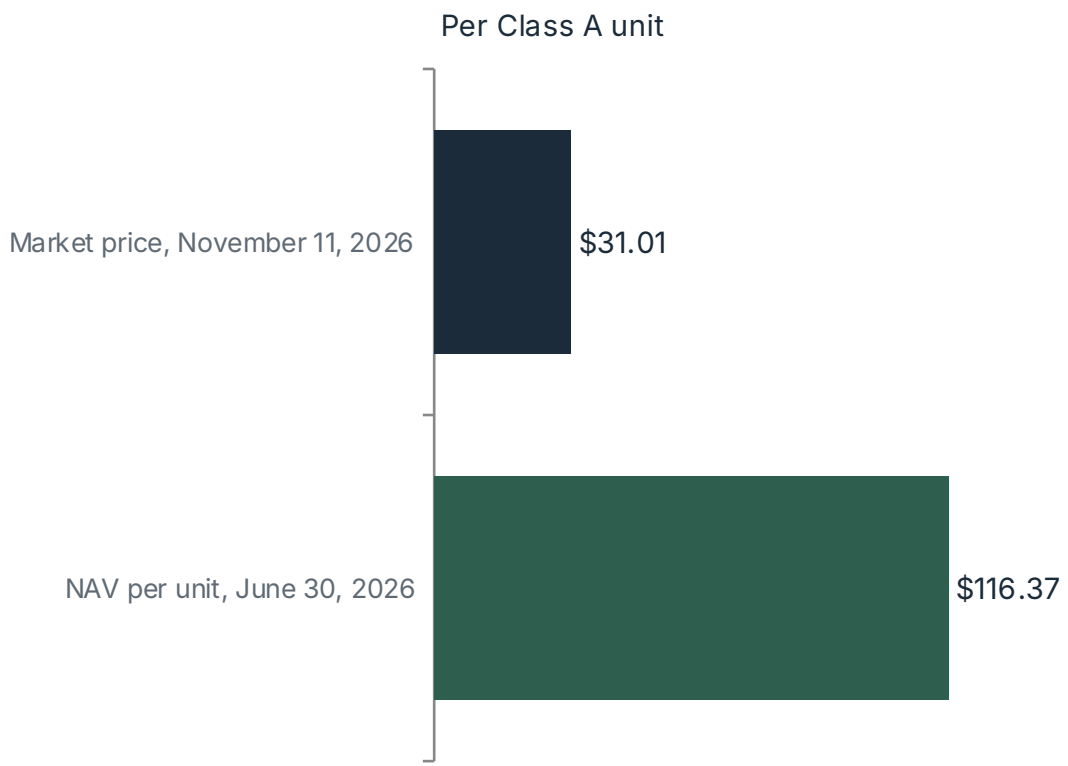

The only listed Qualified Opportunity Fund

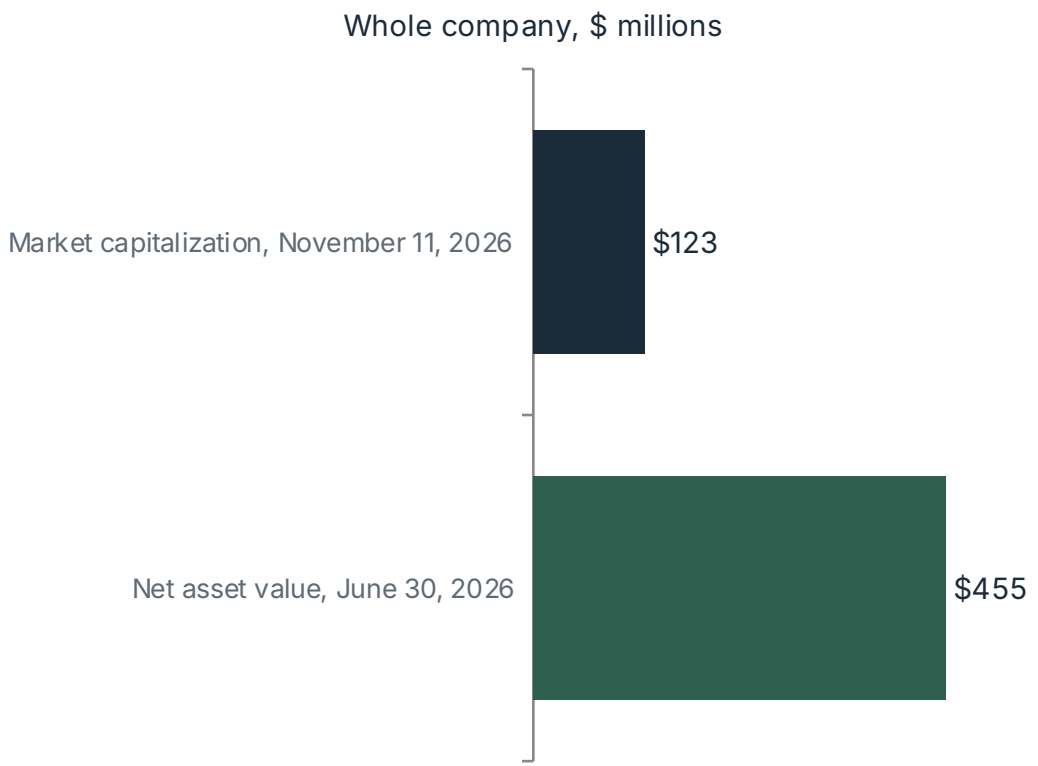

Buy through any brokerage account at the market price. No subscription process, no accreditation requirement, no capital calls, and no lock-up when an investor wants to sell. Liquidity depends on trading volume and market conditions.

NAV is an estimate, not a guarantee of value, and the market price may never reach it. Leasing percentages are Company estimates as of November 1, 2026. Comparisons describe general features of private Opportunity Zone funds and are not a description of any specific fund.

THE CONTRARIAN ENTRY POINT

Market price vs. net asset value

Market capitalization: $31.01 closing price on November 11, 2026 multiplied by 3,961,376 Class A units outstanding at October 30, 2026 (Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2026). NAV is calculated quarterly by the Manager under the Company's valuation policy; it is an estimate, not a guarantee of value, and the market price may never reach it.

OBJECTIVES

The plan from here

01

Stabilize Aster & Links and VIV

Complete lease-up of the two completed properties. Aster & Links was greater than 92% leased and VIV greater than 86% leased as of November 1, 2026.

02

Refinance the completed properties

Both are financed with floating-rate loans maturing in 2027 with extension options. The objective is to refinance on stabilization, which depends on occupancy, net operating income, interest rates and lender appetite.

03

Monetize Nashville properties

900 8th Avenue South is under contract to be sold. The Davidson Street properties could be sold, joint ventured or developed. Proceeds from any transaction could be used for distributions, unit repurchases, debt reduction or reinvestment, in each case subject to Board approval, loan covenants, cash needs and reserves.

04

Distributions when the Company is in a position to pay them

Paying distributions to unitholders is one of the Company's principal objectives once it is in a position to do so. Distributions are subject to many factors, including Board approval, the Company's results and cash needs, compliance with loan covenants, and the maintenance of adequate reserves.

These objectives are forward-looking statements, not guidance or a commitment. There is no assurance that the properties will stabilize on any timetable, that refinancing will be available on acceptable terms, that the Nashville properties will sell, or that any distribution will be paid. See the risk factors in the Company's Form 10-K and Form 10-Q and the Chairman and CEO letter to unitholders.

Defer, reduce, eliminate

Defer

Reinvest an eligible capital gain in a Qualified Opportunity Fund within 180 days of the sale and defer the capital gain. Under OZ 1.0 the deferred gain is recognized on the earlier of December 31, 2026 or an inclusion event such as a sale of the investment. Under OZ 2.0, for investments made on or after January 1, 2027, the deferral runs five years from the date of investment.

Reduce

The amount of deferred gain recognized is reduced by a basis step-up: 10% after five years under OZ 2.0, with 30% for qualified rural opportunity funds. Under OZ 1.0, the 10% step-up applied to investments that reached their five-year anniversary on or before December 31, 2026.

Eliminate

Hold the Qualified Opportunity Fund investment for at least ten years and elect to step the basis up to fair market value on sale, eliminating federal capital gains tax on the appreciation of the investment. OZ 1.0 investments keep this benefit; under OZ 2.0 the election is available for up to 30 years.

Bridge from OZ 1.0 to OZ 2.0. Exiting an OZ 1.0 investment any time before the December 31, 2026 recognition date triggers a new 180-day reinvestment period. Nothing in the OZ 1.0 or OZ 2.0 statutes, regulations or IRS guidance as it exists today prohibits overlapping that exit with the start of the OZ 2.0 program on or after January 1, 2027.[2] Review with a qualified tax professional. See note 2 on the final page.

Nothing here is tax advice. Benefits depend on each investor's circumstances and on current law, which may change. Consult your own tax adviser.

TWO WAYS IN

How to invest

01

Realize a gain

Sell stock, a business, real estate, crypto or another appreciated asset. Only the gain needs to be reinvested.

02

Buy OZ within 180 days

Purchase Class A units through any brokerage account at the prevailing market price.[1] No minimum, no accreditation, no subscription documents.

03

Elect and hold

Make the deferral election on IRS Form 8949 and report the investment on Form 8997 with your tax return, then hold for the ten-year benefit.

From time to time, in its sole discretion, the Company may offer Class A units directly under an effective registration statement. No such offering is currently open. Availability and terms are subject to change.
